AN "AMERICAN NIGHT"

Final Concert of the Maine Festival a Timely Innovation.

Director Chapman of the Maine Musical Festival conducted a very enthusiastic meeting of the Bangor chorus and visitors from other choruses in that city Monday evening. Mr. Chapman is very confident that the festival for 1916 will surpass all the splendid musical gatherings in the past and there is every reason to believe that he will prove correct in his prediction.

While from its inception the festival has proven remarkably successful, there has been a great improvement in the past few years as during these Mr. Chapman has produced stellar attractions for every concert. In the earlier days of the festival it was felt that one great concert would carry the series through but in the determination to show annual improvement, Mr. Chapman has widened the scope and now introduces great artists at every performance.

Thus, at the coming festival the great Melba will be the wonderful attraction of the first night while de Gogorza, whose absence last year because of the European war was so deeply regretted, will charm the patrons of the second evening. For the final night of the concert, Director Chapman promises an innovation and it will be one that should give pleasure to every one in attendance. The final concert will take the form of an American concert and nothing but American music will be rendered by American soloists and American musicians.

This innovation will not be surprising to Maine people who are prepared for anything in that line from Director Chapman. His energy and pertinacity added to his ability have been the main factors in the development of the annual Maine festival. His motto is "no footstep backward," and he proposes to make it adaptable the coming fall as it has been in the past.—Bangor Commercial.

KNOX FIELD DAY ASSOCIATION

At the annual meeting of the officers of the Knox Field Day Association, held in Masonic Temple, Rockland, May 14, it was voted to hold the annual field day at Glen Cove Grange hall, Aug. 4, and the following committees were chosen:

Arrangements—Mrs. Hester Chase, Mrs. Aliota Watts, Mrs. Nettie Griffin. Reception—Vice presidents of different Chapters. Music—Mrs. Lulu Husby, Mrs. Phosie Howard, Mrs. Sarah Pascal. Transportation—Mrs. Hester Chase. Entertainment—Mrs. Bertha Pratt. Press—Mrs. Bessie Lewis.

Noted that the vice presidents of each Chapter furnish two members and that Mrs. Blanch Robbins assist in social entertainment.

Voted that the ruling of previous years in regard to guests at members of the order be followed.

Bessie Lewis, Pres.

GERMANY'S "ANSWER"

What the Country's Leading Editors Say—The German-American View.

The verdict of the American press, as shown in editorial comment Monday, is that the German answer to the demands of the United States is not in any way satisfactory.

A few papers see possible embarrassment in the issues raised by the Kaiser's Government, but most of them regard the reply as evasive and a play for time. The views of representative papers follow:

New York World: The German note . . . does not meet the issue. It is worse than evasive. It is insincere, even pettifogging. Regret will be felt everywhere in the United States that the affairs of a great people believed to be friendly have fallen into the hands of men capable of such desperate trifling.

New York Times: The German reply is not responsive to our demand. It does not promote that "clear and full understanding" as to a grave situation which President Wilson in his note declared to be desirable.

The manner in which Berlin receives our representations in regard to the sinking of the Lusitania cannot fail to create a most disagreeable impression. Chicago Journal: The claim that the Lusitania was an armed vessel is an unmistakable insult to the United States, which cleared the ship as a merchantman, but the request for an investigation of circumstances already known to the civilized world is as shifty as it is insolent.

Washington (D. C.) Post: The American people shrink with horror from the thought of going to war with Germany, but it need not be denied that the failure of Germany's military government to guarantee the safety of American lives at sea arouses keen apprehension of future happenings.

Springfield Republican: The impression Americans must receive is that no ground will be yielded on this issue except after a determined defense of every act in the least capable of defense. There is a stiffness in the communication that reveals no remorse, yet by no means is it flatly unconvincing or defiant. It does not leave the situation hopeless.

St. Louis Post Dispatch: We cannot tolerate quibbling in this vital issue. Providence Journal: It is doubtful if any state paper from one Government to another in recent generations has evinced to such depths of stupidity and prevarication.

Philadelphia Bulletin: Evasion and dilatory purpose are so obvious . . . as severely to test the temper of the American people. President Wilson may be expected to make prompt reply, so definite in language and tone that there shall be no chance of misapprehension.

St. Louis Post Commercial: No more unyielding reply could have been written . . . That the answer will not be satisfactory . . . goes without saying, nor is it at all probable that this Government will consent to a prolonged discussion of more or less irrelevant details while the submarines pursue their bloody way undeterred.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The German answer is a quibble. The time is at hand when the President must meet the demands of his countrymen that nothing must happen to trail our majesty before any other majesty and that the United States shall lay down to belligerents certain rights and laws of neutrality which they shall be required to obey, if needs be, by all the force we are able to put in the field.

Pittsburgh Gazette Times: The lives and rights of American citizens cannot legitimately be construed as contingent upon a readjustment of war conditions to meet the necessities of Germany.

Baltimore Sun: Germany's reply to President Wilson's note on the sinking of the Lusitania is, so far as the main issues are concerned, no answer at all.

Cincinnati Commercial: There is an absolute ignoring of vital principles set forth in the Wilson letter and there is a half-contemptuous, albeit, entirely courteous suggestion of "well, they are still dead; now what do you propose to do about it?"

Charleston News and Courier: The German note not only leaves us without assurance for the future, but its whole trend and tenor is to defend the indefensible past and to place the responsibility upon ourselves and upon Germany's enemies.

El Paso Herald: It ignores our good will, questions our good faith, doubts our facts, brushes aside our arguments, overlooks our threats, acknowledges no wrong, transfers all blame, claims full justification, declares her policy fixed, avoids the whole question of duty to humanity and awaits our next move.

Here are some comments from the German-American press: Chicago Staats Zeitung: Despite the fact that the American Government cannot assert positively that the Gulf flight was the victim of a German torpedo . . . Germany agreed not to demand proof and offered compensation . . . This fact alone ought to open the eyes of American citizens . . . to the moral strength of the German position, and ought to prove that in no way is it the intention of the German Admiralty to destroy neutral, especially American, shipping.

Cincinnati Free Presses: The German note is courteous in tone and the hand is out for a settlement of differences. The note does not say that the American position is untenable. It merely demands that the facts in the case be first established.

Chicago Abend Post: The American note really was an indictment based solely upon British and pro-British testimony and asked of Germany that she admit her guilt and do penance without further ado. In view of this the German note is all that was to be expected.

PURITY

The ingredients of the food you eat and give your children should be pure and healthful beyond any question.

Various food officials and pure food experts have frequently endorsed Royal Baking Powder as being superior to all other similar preparations, and many of the great chemists of the world, including most of those of official position, have given like testimony.

No other article of food has ever received such emphatic commendation for purity, strength and wholesomeness, from the most eminent authorities, as Royal Baking Powder.

Because Royal Baking Powder adds only healthful qualities to the food is one of the reasons why it is always preferred by teachers of cookery and the medical profession.

CAMDEN VISITATION DAY

Saturday Is Set Apart As Time of Friendly Calling.

Saturday of this week is "Visitation Day" in Camden, as on the afternoon of that day nearly every resident can be "at home." Already some seventy or eighty ladies are anticipating the pleasure of joining a movement to spend a portion of that afternoon in calling at the homes of the residents of that community.

Many of these ladies will be attended by Boy Scouts in full uniform, who gladly forego other pleasures for the joys this occasion will bring. These visitors will offer neighborly greetings with sincere expressions of friendship and good will.

As these go out from the various Sunday schools and churches, they will want to learn the Sunday schools of which the families may be members, and their church preferences. No discrimination will be made between Jews and Gentiles or Catholics and Protestants. Every home will be visited, whatever the creed or station in life.

"THE PRETTIEST GIRL"

Miss Dennison of Portland the Winner for Maine, and Will Attend Beauty Contest At California Exposition.

Miss Forestine Dennison, 21 years old, of Portland has been awarded the title, "The Prettiest Girl in Maine" by the judges in The Boston Traveler and The Boston Sunday Herald's Free Panama-Pacific Tour offer. As the guest of those newspapers Miss Dennison will represent Maine at the Congress of Beauty in California early in June and with 47 other girls who have been chosen at the prettiest girls in their respective states visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the San Diego Exposition, Universal City and many other points of beauty and interest in the Golden State.

The Boston Traveler and Boston Sunday Herald's offer of a free tour to California for the prettiest girl in each of the four northern New England States, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine, and for one girl to be selected at large from these States was open from April 1 to May 30. During that time hundreds of pictures poured into The Boston Traveler office from every section of Northern New England.

Selections were made with difficulty. New England is noted for its pretty girls and choosing one in each State as the prettiest seemed for a time to be impossible. Finally the task became a selection of types. The pictures were grouped and classified by type of character, and the judges set to work to select the prettiest of the group. It was a task of choosing the prettiest of girls who possessed great beauty and also were typical of the State they represented. The final awards were reached through a process of elimination.

WHO IS THE CRIMINAL?

[Wilder W. Perry in Camden Herald]

It seems to be like this: Some five months have expired now since the new sheriff and his deputies took their oath before God and man to enforce the laws of the state, especially the law against the sale of intoxicating liquor. They have touched the leading rum-sellers once with $100 and cost, (mistakenly), rarely any more than that in Knox county.

There are four reasons why may be given or rather excuses, for there is no reason in such conduct on the part of the officers of the law.

The first reason is that there may be protection for a consideration. The second is that the rum-sellers are allowed to keep open as a reward for their political influence. The third reason is that the officers of Knox county have to obey some political boss higher up, who says that in order to keep Knox county in the Democrat column the rum shops, gambling dens and slot machines must be let alone. The fourth excuse, and the one, which, no doubt, the officers find it safest to hide behind, is, that the people don't want the law enforced.

In other words, the officers say to society, you are the criminal.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION OF SOUTH THOMASTON AND ST. GEORGE.

The First Baptist church of St. George (Wiley's Corner) will entertain the District Sunday School Convention Friday, June 11, afternoon and evening. Several of the State and county officers will be present, and with the pastors of the different churches an interesting and instructive meeting is expected. It is earnestly desired that every school in the District be represented.

Pilgrimage

I will tread on the golden grass of my bright field. When the passion-star has faded, when the night has fled, I will tread on the golden grass of my bright field.

In the glow of the early day when the east is red, In my bright field a broken beech tree leans; And a giant boulder stands by a black-burned mound.

And a rough-built, falling wall and a rotting door. Scar, like a scar, the spot where a house once stood.

My eyes are mute on the white edge of the lawn. My feet fall swift and bare upon the way; The long soft hills grow black against the sky. The green wood moves, unfolds; the high trees sway.

The worn road stretches thin, and the low hedge dips. And a strong old bridge looms frail o'er a ghostly stream; And a white dower turns and breathes, and turns again. Does it live, as I live? Does it wake, as I wake, from a dream?

(How merciless is the dawn! how poignant the hush of my soul! How changeless the changing sky! how fearful that wild bird's call! I hear the quick suck of his wing, the push of his breast—he is gone! How swift is an age of time! how endless, beginningless, all?)

I tread on the golden grass of my bright field; The sun's on a hundred hills; the night has fled; I tread on the golden grass of my bright field. In the glow of the early day, and the east is red.

THE WAR IN EUROPE

President Wilson, following the conference with Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, was going ahead yesterday with the preparation of the American Government's response to the German Government's reply to the last American note, concerning the sinking of the Lusitania. The communication is being penned by the President himself, and it will go forward before the end of the week.

After a siege of three weeks, the fortress of Przemyśl has fallen to the Austrians. The Russians were in possession a little over 70 days.

Another feature of the fighting on the eastern front is the new attack on Warsaw.

Roumania and Russia have apparently been unable to compose their differences concerning an adjustment of the boundary line. Roumania's entrance into the war is said unofficially to be conditioned upon such an agreement. A Milan despatch states that King Victor Emmanuel has offered his services as intermediary between these nations.

Italy's reports of steady progress in the invasion of Austria are disputed at Vienna.

MEMORIAL DAY ECHOES

Items Suggested by Rockland's Observance and the Rhode Island's Visit—The White House Acknowledges Mass Meeting's Telegram.

An interesting feature in connection with the Memorial Day exercises around the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial was the hearty endorsement given the proposition to send President Wilson a telegram approving his stand on the Lusitania matter. The telegram was prepared by Rev. W. L. Pratt of the First Baptist church. This is a copy:

"The citizens of the city of Rockland, Me., assembled in commemoration of the noble heroes of 50 years ago, desire to express to you the fidelity of your people and their utmost support in the trying crisis of the present international relations."

By vote of the mass meeting this telegram was sent in the name of the mayor, Charles M. Harrington.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Harrington received this reply:

The White House,
Washington, June 1, 1915.

My dear Mr. Mayor:
The President has asked me to thank you warmly for your kind telegram of May 31st, and to assure you and all citizens of his genuine appreciation of your expression of confidence and support. He is very much heartened by your generous message.

Sincerely yours,
J. S. Tamm,
Secretary to the President.

Thirty-five members of Edwin Libby Relief Corps visited the battleship Rhode Island last Sunday, by special invitation. They remained three hours and were privileged to make a thorough inspection of the wonderful fighting machine. Ice cream was served to the visitors and each received a souvenir "Rhode Island" ribbon.

Fourteen of the motor cars used in Monday's big parade were overlaid, assembled for that purpose by Mayor Davis, the local agent. They made a fine showing.

Applause for the marching sailors was not only something they richly deserved, but something they liked. Capt. Crose noted it with hearty approval. "In some places which we visit," said he, "there is not a sound of applause. It is neither just nor patriotic."

Mayor Harrington's first act Tuesday morning was to visit police headquarters and commend Marshal Fernald for the excellent order which was maintained Memorial Day. What the mayor said officially is strongly endorsed by all our citizens, and by many out of town persons who attended the celebration.

A barrel of ice cold lemonade would have been a nice thing to have had on hand while the sailors were standing at attention in front of Grand Army hall Monday afternoon. The oversight was not surprising in view of the many other things which demanded the committee's attention, but it is one of the errors which should be profited by on a future occasion.

During the automobile ride last Sunday afternoon Capt. Crose expressed his admiration of shaggy cats. Mayor Harrington, who has probably handled more of them than any other man in Knox county, and whose judgment is correspondingly good, is arranging to send one to the captain as soon as he can get the desired feline.

DR. WILLIAM A. SPEAR

After a long illness, in which he suffered from a complication of diseases, Dr. William A. Spear, dentist, died Wednesday afternoon at his home on Grove street. The deceased was born in Lincolnville 35 years ago, but as the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Spear received all the parental care and affection that could have been lavished upon a child of their own.

The young man graduated with high honors from the Philadelphia Dental College, and soon afterward opened an office in this city. His skill at the profession was quickly recognized, and he had begun to build up a large practice when stricken by physical ailments. Eventually his condition became such that he was obliged to go away for hospital treatment. Although he had partially recovered, Dr. Spear returned to this city and pluckily resumed his practice, which he continued until the odds became so great that the unequal struggle was abandoned. Through all this trying period he had the constant care and assistance of a devoted wife (formerly Miss Lucy Peck); and of his adopted father. Dr. Spear was a member of Rockland Lodge of Elks, and until ill health prevented it, was an active participant in social affairs about town, gaining wide popularity. The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Mr. Allen officiating.

Warns Mexican Leaders

President Wilson's Patience Is Exhausted—"Watchful Waiting" To Be Succeeded By Action.

In a statement to the American people Wednesday, President Wilson served notice on the factional leaders of Mexico that unless within "a very short time" they unite to set up a government which the world can recognize, the United States "will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people."

Signaling a change from the "watchful waiting" policy, which has guided relations with Mexico for more than two years, the President's statement was regarded in official and diplomatic quarters as notice of a new and vigorous policy to restore peace below the Rio Grande.

Everywhere it was interpreted as a warning that the patience of the United States is exhausted. What steps the President is prepared to take if his warning goes unheeded, is not disclosed in the statement. In high official quarters, nevertheless, no doubt existed that he is prepared to proceed. The statement which goes to Carranza, Villa, Zapata and Garza, the principal leaders, not as a diplomatic note from the United States but as a declaration of President Wilson's attitude expressed in a statement to the American people.

APPLETON

The Memorial sermon was delivered from the Baptist pulpit by the pastor, Rev. L. F. Cook, Sunday morning, to an appreciative audience which filled the church. By invitation the members of Appleton Lodge of Odd Fellows and Golden Rod Rebekah Lodge attended the services in a body. The choir rendered several selections appropriate to the occasion and Miss Rose Ripley gave a reading entitled, "The Returned Maine Battle Flags." The church was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, while the national colors were in evidence upon the walls and draped across the pulpit. The discourse was highly spoken of by all who were privileged to hear the same.

Lafayette Carver Corps met Tuesday with Mrs. A. U. Patterson, High street.
Ideal weather conditions favored Memorial Day and the ceremonies of the day were carried out as follows: At 1:30 p. m. the procession formed, Smith's Vinalhaven Band; Lafayette Carver Post, No. 45, C. B. Vinal Commander; Gettysburg Camp, No. 13, S. of V. W. Adelbert Smith, Commander; Dringo Company, No. 13, B. M. L. J. B. Webster, captain; Pequot Tribe, No. 96, I. O. R. M. Lafayette C. Smith, sachem. Town officers, school children and citizens marched to John Carver cemetery to decorate to Wall's Landing to scatter flowers on the water in memory of naval comrades, thence to Soldiers' monument to decorate in memory of those who never returned. The exercises at Memorial hall in the evening were largely attended. Comrade Walls presiding, Lincoln's address at Gettysburg was finely delivered by Commander W. Adelbert Smith, S. of V. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Pliny A. Allen, Jr. of Rockland, whose patriotic oration held the audience in close attention to the last. On the platform were all the members of Lafayette Carver Post but one, who was detained at his home by illness.

us to believe that the best time to fight them is during the afternoon as they are usually at home at this time. The Knox Co. have made their last shipment of apples for the present season.
Memorial services here last Sunday were very satisfactory. Rev. M. Bradford gave a fine sermon for the occasion, taking for his text "I have fought a good fight." The music was in keeping with the day. There was a good attendance who gave evidence of appreciation.
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Vinal visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Miller several days this week.
There are many in this vicinity who no doubt will be pleased to know that Miss Richardson of Salem, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. A. Howard for the present season.
Card of Thanks
We wish to thank our friends for the kindness and sympathy shown in our recent bereavement; also for the beautiful flowers.

The Odd Fellows go to Warren tonight.
J. E. Rhodes' residence on Cedar street has been painted.

Yes—ye know. What The Courier-Gazette meant was "marriage."
Francis Willard Hall and Ella Isabel Brown of Thomaston have filed marriage intentions at the city clerk's office.

Services at the Highlands Sunday afternoon will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Gray, pastor of the Methodist church.

Ye Olde Assembly in Watts hall, Thomaston, next Tuesday night, that's what the Rockland dancers have been waiting to hear.

Something new in town is the candy refrigerator at Lachance's drug store. Ever notice how much better ice cold chocolates taste?

The crews of the White Head and Burnt Island life saving stations have entered upon their summer vacation, which lasts until Aug. 1.

A mother's meeting followed by a social hour and refreshments, will be held by the W. C. T. U. in the Methodist vestry this afternoon.

A Civic League representative was in this city and vicinity Tuesday and Wednesday. Thus far there has been no aftermath of the visit.

With the thermometer registering over 80 degrees above zero yesterday morning it wasn't much of a time to be thinking about June roses.

Archie G. Bucklin, a former deputy sheriff, has assumed his duties as deputy warden at the State Prison, a position which he held under a previous administration.

One of the vacant rooms in Jones block has been annexed to the Gospel Mission headquarters, which will show a decided improvement when the work is completed.

The cabinet of the Epworth League meets Tuesday evening in the Methodist vestry at 7 o'clock and the regular monthly business meeting of the League will be held immediately after the prayer meeting.

Twenty handsome brook trout, caught one day this week by Hector Winslow and Dr. Tyler W. Spear, have caused those fortunate sportsmen to be much envied. The fish were caught—but there, that's a secret.

Charles T. Copeland has been transferred to the steamboat branch of the Maine Central service as purser on the steamer Sieur de Monts. A. S. Atkins is manipulating the punch until Knox county's return from his fishing trip.

The Nova Scotia lobster season closes today. Thousands of the green shellfish from Provincetown waters have been shipped through Rockland during the past few months, with the result that the Boston market has been kept well stocked.

Tomorrow afternoon's ball game on the Broadway ground begins at 1:30 sharp, as the Vinalhaven team leaves on the afternoon boat. Rockland High simply must win this game in order to make a respectable showing in the League standing.

The Rockland high school team plays its last home game in the Knox-Waldo League on the Broadway ground Saturday afternoon, and in order that the visitors may return on the afternoon boat the game will be called at 1:30 sharp. The spectators should bear this in mind.

Charles S. Patterson, who has been employed at Mather's greenhouse the past two years, has resigned that position for a similar one in Milton, Mass. He will move his family there some time in August. Mr. Patterson and family will be missed by the many friends they have made during their short residence in town.

The military organ, which has done faithful service at the Arcade the past winter, was removed Wednesday for shipment to Peak's Island, where Manager Pierce is to open his summer skating rink June 15. The Belfast rink closes tomorrow night. Big crowds have been enjoying the skating and racing in the latter city this week.

Mrs. Barbour, New England Jubilee supervisor, will give an illustrated lecture at the M. E. church Sunday evening, and Monday will speak at 2:30 p. m. at the regular meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society in the church parlors. All interested are invited. Please notice change of date from Thursday to Monday.

Crops are looking fine at the city poor farm, and if our winter doesn't last much longer Mr. Brewster will have green peas in the market for July Fourth. Repairs on the almshouse have been completed, and at Monday night's meeting of the city council an order will be put through to have the buildings painted.

Musical people in Rockland will be glad to learn that John Orth, the eminent Boston pianist and teacher, will spend the summer in or near Rockland. He expects to arrive here about the middle of June, and will be pleased to meet those who wish to study with him during his stay. He will probably give his first lecture recital some time during the season. Mr. Orth was a pupil of this great master. His lecture recital with personal reminiscences and piano compositions, as played by Mr. Orth, have everywhere been enthusiastically received.—adv. 45-46

The Gospel Mission desires to inform the public that Charles Wilson is no longer authorized to represent the mission as a collector.

The Redfern is pre-eminently the corset of the fashionable woman

The designers of the Redfern Corsets work in conjunction with the creators of fashions. A change in one means a change in the other, for they are inseparable.

As the charm of a gown depends for its beauty upon the figure of the woman who wears it, so the figure depends for its beauty upon the corset.

The degree staff of Miriam Rebekah Lodge will hold a drill meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Knox county will be well represented at the annual convention of the Maine Medical Association at Poland Springs next Wednesday and Thursday. The delegates will be accompanied by their wives.

The city's new ordinance intended to care for nuisance dogs has been approved by Chief Justice Savare, and is published in full elsewhere in these columns. A pound-keeper will be appointed at Monday night's city council meeting, and City Clerk Vezzie will immediately turn over to him a list of dogs which have not been licensed.

As the pound-keeper is to receive $1 for each dog thus gathered in the work is not likely to be neglected.

The Relief Corps held its last supper of the season Thursday night.

The June meeting of the city council is to be held next Monday night. One matter to receive attention will be the appointment of a physician to examine blind persons who make application for the State pension of $200 per year, provided for by the last Legislature.

The Knox County Medical Society held a special meeting at the Thorndike Hotel Tuesday, with 16 members of the profession in attendance. Dr. A. F. Williams, counselor for this district, gave an interesting talk on medical matters pertaining to his jurisdiction.

The dinner served by the new hotel management was highly complimented.

Simon A. Adams, former city treasurer, has bought from Charles G. Hoyt the Fogler farm at South Union, and has become an agricultural one a large scale. It is a farm of 100 acres, containing 1000 apple trees, and wood enough to last the new proprietor the remainder of his days, even if he attains the ripe old age of his ancestors.

Mr. Adams has been a lifelong resident of upper Limerock street, which locality regrets the departure of a good neighbor.

The special films which President Black of the Maine Theatres, Inc., had taken of the Memorial Day celebration; also, the following day, of our limbeck quarries, will be shown very soon at the Rockland Theatre. Due notice will be given the public of these dates.

The management is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Sears, the operator, who states that the negative is actually the very best that he has ever developed. This will insure the Rockland theatre-going public of the clearest kind of a picture and enable persons in the range of the camera to be easily identified.

Patrons of the Crescent Beach line are saying many complimentary things about the great improvement that has been made on the roadbed this season. About 1500 new ties have recently been put into the roadbed and more are being added every day, so that the general condition of the road is undoubtedly better than it has been any time since it was built. The management states that it is the intention to still further improve the roadbed, and not only get it into first-class condition but keep it that way. As soon as general financial conditions improve it is the company's intention to extend its lines.

Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows is taking the initiative in a Fourth of July celebration, by appointing a committee to confer with other lodges as to that subject. On this committee are Luke S. Davis, L. Jones and Al. Sawyer. Rockland has not had a celebration for many years, and in consequence we have seen our holiday money go out of town to find its market. This should not be the case, where we have such a fine harbor and can doubtless get one or more warships to furnish most of the fun. The time for preparation is brief, but with good hustling committees a great deal can be accomplished in one month. We believe the business men and citizens in general will hold up their hands in favor of a celebration right here at home.

Another popular dollar day sale at E. B. Hastings & Co.'s Saturday and Monday.

Tinker's Famous Singing and Novelty Orchestra will give a concert and vaudeville in the Arcade next Monday evening. A wonderful variety of musical instruments used.

At Kennedy's alley last night the Rockland bowlers defeated the Rockland team 102 pins. Full score next issue.

Miss Marion Sherer of the Highlands is the proud owner of 29 chickens, which represented every egg in two settings. Perhaps somebody can beat that record.

"My boy Stanley just brought in a ripe strawberry," proudly telephoned Selectman Snow of South Thomaston this morning. Must be warmer down there than it is in Rockland.

When Judge Howard opened court Wednesday morning his first thought was that he had a baseball team to deal with. His guests proved to be nine "drunks," however. Four were committed to the county jail.

A Western Union crew, in charge of Harry L. Dow has been putting in a new copper wire circuit for the company's call boxes and electrical clocks. New clocks are to be installed at the Thorndike and St. Nicholas hotels.

Miss Abbie McKelley, who has been attached to the local Salvation Army Corps the past three months, left Wednesday night for Springfield, Mass., where she will assist in the work while a new building is being erected.

Pedestrians are making so many complaints at police headquarters about bicycle riding on the sidewalks that Marshal Fernald has issued an official warning. The penalty for such violations is not less than $3 nor more than $5.

Up to Wednesday noon City Clerk Vezzie had issued 270 dog licenses, this being about the same number as for the corresponding period a year ago. The delinquency will get busy next week, after the city council establishes that pound.

The annual field day and council meeting of the Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F., Department of Maine, which will be held in Lewiston and Auburn next Tuesday and Wednesday promises to be one of the biggest events of the kind ever held in the two cities. Plans are being made for the entertainment of 1000, and it is expected that over 1000 uniformed Knights will be in the parade.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Rev. W. L. Pratt will lead the meeting at Glenview Sunday at 1:30.

WALDOBORO

Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Sanborn of Portland are in town.

Granville Honey of Lowell has been in town the past week.

Mrs. C. F. Bray has returned from a motor trip to Philadelphia with Mr. and Mrs. Eli Osier and Harry Shuman.

Miss Stella Waltz has come from Boston to care for her aunt, Mrs. M. H. Hutchins.

Mrs. J. W. Sanborn is in Boston and vicinity for a few weeks' visit.

The School Improvement League at the last meeting voted to adjourn until September; also voted to have some sort of celebration July 4th.

Charles Lilly has returned from Massachusetts.

Mrs. Herbert Winchenbach took poison Monday night, but got an overdose which saved her life. Nervous strain is given as the cause of the act.

Memorial Day services were held in the Methodist church Saturday. The address by George W. Cowan of Danvers was given close attention by the large audience present. It was a patriotic and timely talk. G. I. Waltz sang some the numbers appropriate to the occasion.

Mrs. Roswell Genthner and Miss Audrey Genthner were in Rockland Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Rowe who has been out of health the past winter is not as well even as usual.

Mrs. Jesse Wyman was in Rockland Tuesday.

Fred Robbins of Rockland was in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sweetland of West Newton were in town last week on their way to Martin's Point to spend Memorial Day.

Harry Shuman of Auburn is at Charles Bray's a few days.

The 26th annual convention of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Congregational church Friday, May 28. The usual business was followed by the presence of Miss Esther Gilman who gave some fine recitations, and G. I. Waltz, who accompanied by his auto harp, sang very acceptably to the delight of the audience.

ROCKLAND THEATRE

The chief attraction at Rockland Theatre today and tomorrow will be the Vitaphone Company's production of "The Birth of a Nation."

"The Birth of a Nation" is a masterpiece in eight parts and 500 scenes. An all-star cast of Vitaphone players is headed by Miss Edith Storey and Earle Williams. More than 3000 people are seen in the picture, which at once can be considered as the best acting picture ever made, as well as the most elaborate and careful presentation of any photoplay now before the public.

"The Christian" as a novel was a great success. Later, it was dramatized and it brought fame and wealth to Miss Viola Allen. Its present form is its best, inasmuch as the talky dialogue of the novel and drama have been eliminated and the many scenes which were omitted in the staged version, are utilized in the pictorial version. It is a superb production of a wonderful story, and having been made by the justly celebrated Vitaphone Company, who provided its best players and the most sumptuous production they could conceive, it becomes a photoplay masterpiece.

Miss Edith Storey assumes the difficult role of "Glory Quayle," investing it with a youthful abandon and a mature understanding seemingly impossible to register on the screen. She is "The Bernhardt of the Screen," and no finer selection could have been made for the great part. Her principal co-workers are Earle Williams, who portrays "John Storm" in a masterful manner, giving the character a human touch which is most appealing. Others in this wonderful cast are Charles Kent, James Lackaye, James Morrison, Harry S. Northrup, Donald Hall, Edward Kimball, J. W. Sandbrook, Miss Jane Pembrey, Miss Alberta Gallatin and Miss Carlotta de Felice.—adv.

The 7th instalment of the "Black Box" is very exciting. Tonight is "Coupon" night. Charles Chaplin is seen in one of his funniest comedies, "A Jitney Elopement." It is one big, long show.

Coming Monday and Tuesday "The Italian," the six-reel production, featuring the celebrated artist, George Behan, who is famed far and wide for his fine dramatic work in many roles, notably "The Sign of the Cross." This is Mr. Behan's first appearance in screen work and from "The Italian"

we may expect unusually fine productions in which he takes the leading part.—adv.

THE MOTORIST'S GUIDE

Year Book Just Issued by Automobile
Association is an Encyclopedia of Useful Information.

The four-year-old Jersey cow, Flying
Fox's Maid, No. 253,318, owned by David E. Moulton of Portland, has just
broken the world's record for her age
and class, being the first cow in the state of Maine of any breed, to hold a
world's record.

This heifer is a registry of merit
Jersey, having made a record as a
two-year-old, and now she is the
holder of her first calf.
On Feb. 21, 1914, when she was four
years, 67 days old, she dropped her
second calf and was immediately started for another record. No special attention was paid to her and she received the same care as the other members of the herd, except that she was
milked three times a day.

There are 16 registered Jerseys at Gilsland and only two men are employed in the caring for the cows and
young stock and doing the general
farm work, so that no better care
could be given this cow than the one
she has received and should give her herd. In fact, the men who fed and
cared for Maid during her years' test
had never run a cow on any yearly
test before. No attempt was made to force her to the limit and she never
was "off feed" once during the year,
and finished in better condition and
flesh than when she started. She is a large rugged cow and weighs all the weight of the Jerseys which abound in Maine wherever the farmers give them
proper feed and care.

The milk at Gilsland is sold at whole-
sale on bids which call for a guaranteed fat content of at least 4 1/2 per cent butter fat.

Up to July 1, 1914, her milk was
sold for eight cents a quart; after that date it was sold for nine cents. At the end of the year her milk sold for 9 1/2 cents. Her milk sold for $579.92.
The cost of her feed which was charged
at the actual prices paid, was $170.75,
leaving a net profit of $409.17 for the
year.

Following is a detailed statement of
the feed and cost of same; also a detailed statement of the production for
each month and percentage of butter
fat.

300 Bran at $20 per ton.....$1.50
100 G. Oats at $38 per ton..... 3.50
100 Schumacher Feed at $28.50 ton..... 2.85
200 Molasses at $40 per ton..... 8.00
1000 L. S. Meal at $32.50 per ton..... 32.50
2500 D. Corn Grain (Brown) at..... 1.00
85 per ton..... 2.12
200 Ensilage at $5 per ton..... 1.00
1500 Mixed Hay at $16 per ton..... 24.00
500 Roots at $6 per ton..... 3.00
1000 Feed Pulp at $28 per ton..... 28.00
1800 Green Fodder (peas and oats)
at $5 per ton..... 9.00
150 Alfalfa Meal at $29 per ton..... 4.35
$170.75

These records have been authenticated
by the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station at Orono. Five days
during the year re-tests were made to
corroborate the amount of milk produced and the percentage of fat, and
during the year six different persons
have authenticated her production and
the totals are the official figures according to the American Jersey Cattle
Club.

Up to Dec. 30, 1914, the highest
record of a junior four-year-old Jersey
was 11,299 pounds, eight ounces milk,
and 65 per cent, 5.40 ounces butter fat.
Flying Fox's Maid's record is the highest record ever produced in the State of Maine by a Jersey cow of any age.

It is a remarkable coincidence that
her stable mate, Fraulein Rose, No.
29,411, made a remarkable record of 55 pounds of butter in 155 days at the same time Maid was making her
test. Fraulein Rose contracted pneumonia by exposure to cold and died, after 155 days' test, otherwise might have equalled
Maid's record.

Gilsland Farm is situated at Fal-
mouth, Maine, beside the Portland
Country Club, and every animal in the
herd is in the registry of merit or on
test thereof.

DO LOBSTERS SUFFER?

Apparently Not If Water is Brought Gradually to Boiling Point.

Since people first began to cook and eat lobsters there have been discussions as to whether the methods by which the crustaceans met their death
were cruel, says the Portland Express. The greatest living authority on fish
made the statement, a few years ago
that the lobster was of so low a nervous organization that he doubted its capacity for a great deal of suffering.

The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals asked Joseph Snel, late of the New Jersey
Marine Biological Laboratory, to test
the matter by a series of experiments.
The result showed, according to Mr.
Snel, that lobsters placed in cold water
gradually brought to a boiling point,
exhibited no signs of discomfort.
When the water reached 70 degrees,
they became restless, and they died at about 80 degrees.

On the contrary, lobsters placed in boiling water made efforts to escape,
and did not die for about two minutes.
Snel compares the death of a prostrated "live lobster" comes to its death painlessly. The large knife, at one blow, splits it through brain and body, and must destroy instantly all consciousness. The boiling is thus all ways done after the brain, or seat of suffering, is destroyed.

Our Ideal of Perfection.
The modern world has a new and elaborate dogma of the body, but conviction (if it exist) in regard to the soul is tentative and wary. For many past years the faith has been taught,
the belief has been grown, that physically fit of necessity means mentally fit, that physical power is the measure of man's efficiency. The one glory of our college life lies in its sports, and education of muscle. The only ideal of perfection now in evidence is an ideal of physical perfection; for this, no sacrifice is too great,
no case too onerous. Images of perfect bodily development are kept before the young—the Apollo, with beauty of sinew and muscle; but the face of the Christ is growing ever
more and more dim before their eyes,
and is more and more apologetically
presented, if presented at all.—Atlantic.

SMART COW, THIS

Portland Man Owns Four-Year-Old
Jersey Which Has Just Broken the World's Record.

The four-year-old Jersey cow, Flying
Fox's Maid, No. 253,318, owned by David E. Moulton of Portland, has just
broken the world's record for her age
and class, being the first cow in the state of Maine of any breed, to hold a
world's record.

This heifer is a registry of merit
Jersey, having made a record as a
two-year-old, and now she is the
holder of her first calf.
On Feb. 21, 1914, when she was four
years, 67 days old, she dropped her
second calf and was immediately started for another record. No special attention was paid to her and she received the same care as the other members of the herd, except that she was
milked three times a day.

There are 16 registered Jerseys at Gilsland and only two men are employed in the caring for the cows and
young stock and doing the general
farm work, so that no better care
could be given this cow than the one
she has received and should give her
herd. In fact, the men who fed and
cared for Maid during her years' test
had never run a cow on any yearly
test before. No attempt was made to
force her to the limit and she never
was "off feed" once during the year,
and finished in better condition and
flesh than when she started. She is a large rugged cow and weighs all the
weight of the Jerseys which abound in Maine wherever the farmers give them
proper feed and care.

The milk at Gilsland is sold at whole-
sale on bids which call for a guaranteed fat content of at least 4 1/2 per cent butter fat.

Up to July 1, 1914, her milk was
sold for eight cents a quart; after that
date it was sold for nine cents. At
the end of the year her milk sold for 9 1/2 cents. Her milk sold for $579.92.
The cost of her feed which was charged
at the actual prices paid, was $170.75,
leaving a net profit of $409.17 for the
year.

Following is a detailed statement of
the feed and cost of same; also a detailed statement of the production for
each month and percentage of butter
fat.

300 Bran at $20 per ton.....$1.50
100 G. Oats at $38 per ton..... 3.50
100 Schumacher Feed at $28.50 ton..... 2.85
200 Molasses at $40 per ton..... 8.00
1000 L. S. Meal at $32.50 per ton..... 32.50
2500 D. Corn Grain (Brown) at..... 1.00
85 per ton..... 2.12
200 Ensilage at $5 per ton..... 1.00
1500 Mixed Hay at $16 per ton..... 24.00
500 Roots at $6 per ton..... 3.00
1000 Feed Pulp at $28 per ton..... 28.00
1800 Green Fodder (peas and oats)
at $5 per ton..... 9.00
150 Alfalfa Meal at $29 per ton..... 4.35
$170.75

These records have been authenticated
by the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station at Orono. Five days
during the year re-tests were made to
corroborate the amount of milk produced and the percentage of fat, and
during the year six different persons
have authenticated her production and
the totals are the official figures according to the American Jersey Cattle
Club.

Up to Dec. 30, 1914, the highest
record of a junior four-year-old Jersey
was 11,299 pounds, eight ounces milk,
and 65 per cent, 5.40 ounces butter fat.
Flying Fox's Maid's record is the
highest record ever produced in the State of Maine by a Jersey cow of any
age.

It is a remarkable coincidence that
her stable mate, Fraulein Rose, No.
29,411, made a remarkable record of
55 pounds of butter in 155 days at the same time Maid was making her
test. Fraulein Rose contracted pneumonia by exposure to cold and died, after
155 days' test, otherwise might have equalled
Maid's record.

Gilsland Farm is situated at Fal-
mouth, Maine, beside the Portland
Country Club, and every animal in the
herd is in the registry of merit or on
test thereof.

SONG OF THE NIGHTINGALE

One Need Not Go Far From the Haunts of Man to Hear Bird's Sweet Strains.

One of our great American naturalists once went to England in hope to hear the nightingale. Although he searched for many miles over Surrey
and Hampshire, his search was well nigh fruitless. Had he gone no farther than the outskirts of London, he might have fared better. There are still certain spots in the suburbs to which the nightingale returns year after year.

One of them is Wimbledon Common,
where the bird sings every spring, often, however, quite unrecognized by those who hear him. It is commonly believed that because, as all the world
knows, the nightingale sings by night,
he keeps silence during the day. Never was delusion more ill-founded. It might be in part accounted for if the bird were of a particularly timid and fearful nature. But he is not; in fact,
nightingales are, as a rule, least shy
where they are most accustomed to man's presence.

Not only does this much misunderstood bird (some nightingales, of course, more than others) sing at intervals all day long, but he appears at times to take delight in singing to a crowd.

Under the management of Bishop
Godman, a few years ago the diocese
undertook to manage its own financial
affairs and cut loose from the general
board of missions.

The method in vogue is to have all
money collected at the various missions sent to the treasurer of the diocese and placed in one general fund.
This money is then apportioned among
the mission stations, a maximum and
a minimum salary being fixed for each station. The plan was adopted somewhat fearfully, but it has worked out
admirably and this last year everything was paid and a large balance was
left in the treasury for the beginning
of next year. This state of things has
been made possible only by the business method adopted and by the constant increase among the members of
the church and in their interest in its
work.

He Did Not Try It.

"Nobody but heeds fight American style," said a man, as he got up from a battered piano in one of the New York trotteries. "Over in Paroo you go up to the guy you want to lick, put your right hand on his shoulder and snap your fingers a couple of times.
When he raises his hand to punch,
grab his wrist. Twist it to the right and back into him, holding on. All you gotta do then is bend and toss
him over your shoulder." "But suppose something goes wrong?" said one of the songsters. "Then there's the hat trick," said the speaker, impres-sively. "Try it on his hat brim. That gets him sore and your hand is in a good place." Whereupon the songster gazed him. A minute later there entered a tall, wide-shouldered stranger. The man who had been to Paris spotted him. "See that big guy? Just watch me put it over on him." While the big stranger looked on in amazement the piano player flicked him once on the shoulder. The air was tense as he flicked again. Like a flash the stranger's right hand landed flush on the jaw, dropping the pianist like a sack of cement. Out of the uproar that followed came the cry from the singers: "Go on, Joe! Try the hat trick!"

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me
to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and
sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone
and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs.
Augustus Lyon, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy
for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind
a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other. It is a natural, safe, and effective combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized
from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly testify over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound;
and in some cases that it has saved them
from surgical operations.

EPISCOPALIAN GROWTH

Shown by Statistics of Maine Diocese
—Rev. Henry Jones of Camden the Oldest Priest.

The religious body known in lay as the Episcopal church of the United States of America, located within Maine and known as the diocese of Maine, has made some wonderful strides during the past few years, says
the Portland Sunday Press.

The total number of clergy is 37, of whom 33 are actually canonically resident within the diocese. There are 24 parishes of whom 10 receive missionary aid. There are 33 missions including 13 admitted to the convention and 15 summer chapels making a total of 75 parishes and missions. There are 65 churches and 31 rectories.

The last returned lists show a total
of 1446 male communicants and 3808
female communicants. The total value of the churches and chapels in the diocese is $616,576; of parish houses, $85,000; of rectories, $34,500; of land
now covered with buildings $66,370;
and of other property, including cemeteries, etc., $31,635.02.

The total number of sittings in the churches and chapels of the diocese are 12,441.

The present bishop, Rt. Rev. Robert Godman, is the third in succession, he having been consecrated Feb. 24, 1900.
The oldest priest in the diocese is Rev.
Henry Jones of Camden, who was received from the diocese of Colorado
Oct. 8, 1881.

St. Peter's church at Rockland was organized in January, 1833; St. Thomas' at Camden in 1835; St. John the Baptist at Thomaston Oct. 1, 1869; St.
George's at Long Cove was established
May 17, 1900.

Lincoln county has always been a strong seat of the Episcopal people.
St. John's at Dresden was organized
Jan. 26, 1849, and St. Phillips at Wis-sahick in August, 1856. St. Andrew's church at Newcastle was organized in 1889.

The entire coast is strewn with summer chapels where a great many of the leading clergymen of the denomination from all parts of the country
hold services during the summer and there are many of the leading laymen
of the church worship during the time they are on their summer holidays in Maine. In fact many of these chapels are frequented by men and women who heavily by the summer
parades in other dioceses in the country, and who take as much interest in the work on the coast in this State in the summer as they do in their own churches the rest of the year.

Under the management of Bishop
Godman, a few years ago the diocese
undertook to manage its own financial
affairs and cut loose from the general
board of missions.

The method in vogue is to have all
money collected at the various missions sent to the treasurer of the diocese and placed in one general fund.
This money is then apportioned among
the mission stations, a maximum and
a minimum salary being fixed for each
station. The plan was adopted some-
what fearfully, but it has worked out
admirably and this last year every-
thing was paid and a large balance was
left in the treasury for the beginning
of next year. This state of things has
been made possible only by the business method adopted and by the constant increase among the members of
the church and in their interest in its
work.

THE INCOME TAX

Grave Imperfections, The Result of Ill-
Considered and Hasty Legislation.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—"Apart from specific defects, the structure of the act as a whole is open to the gravest objections."

The criticism above quoted refers to the income tax law, passed by the Democratic Congress as a part of the tariff bill. It is taken from the report of the Taxation Committee of the American Bar Association. That report was non-partisan, made merely for the purpose of having the law improved
from a formal and technical point of view. It was an extended, exhaustive and scientific analysis, conducted by men of the highest standing in the legal profession. Their conclusions therefore may be regarded as fair and impartial.

Their verdict is a severe arraignment
of the careless, haphazard methods
employed by the present administration in the enactment of one of its most important laws.

In this report on the income tax law
there are pointed out no less than twenty-five manifest imperfections demanding correction by Congress. Without amendment it is said that the intent of the law can be reached only by judicial interpretation, involving tedious, expensive litigation.

With reference to provisions for the return that tax payers must make, the report declares:

"It is most unfortunate that there should be any doubt as to what this precise duty is. Here, if anywhere,
the law should be clear and explicit.
The provisions should be placed together in intelligible terms, instead of being scattered, involved with other provisions and phrased in obscure language as they now are. The act conveys the impression that the framers had not reached any definite conclusions in their own minds concerning the requirement of personal returns."

With no thought of making political capital, this report specifically outlines the one weakness that dominates
the legislative methods of the present administration, saying:

"Political exigencies demanded the speedy enactment of the law, and there was not sufficient time for the consideration of detail."

Finally this Committee of the American Bar Association recommends a revision of the law that shall "extend to its form as well as to its substance."

"The entire act should be reconstructed," concludes their report, "and there should be placed upon our statute books an income tax law so arranged and expressed as to be convenient for reference, consistent in all its parts and capable of being understood by a citizen of average intelligence."

There is good reason for the lament
imperfections in the income tax law.
They could have been corrected by thoughtful, intelligent consideration,
and their removal, occurring in the act is still further proof of the needless haste, carelessness and inaccuracy
that characterizes the enactment of laws by the Democratic Congress.

A ROADSIDE PEST

The Tent Caterpillar Also Destroys
Fruit and Shade Trees—How to Control It.

The neglected wayside apple and cherry trees will soon become adorned with the silky webs of the tent caterpillar, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker. The wild cherry and the apple trees seem to be the favorite food plants and these are often stripped of their foliage year after year. Quite often all of the common fruit trees are infested, and when very plentiful
shrubbery and common shade trees are attacked.

The eggs are laid in early summer
in a single ring-like cluster about a twig. Nearly three-fourths of the year is spent in the egg state. This cluster of eggs is covered with a frothy glue-
like substance which protects the eggs
during the winter. The eggs hatch just as the leaf buds are expanding in the spring. Unfortunately these little larvae or caterpillars are covered with an insatiable appetite. They begin at once to feed upon the unopened buds
and tender leaves.

The destructive insect may be controlled in several ways. Neglected apple and wild cherry trees should be destroyed. A tree that is not worth taking care of is not worth having on the farm. The wood in a tree of this kind is worth more than the standing tree in which to breed insects to infest valuable trees. Furthermore, trees stripped of their foliage are not ornamental, nor make much growth during that season. In pruning trees in the spring it is advisable to cut off all egg clusters and burn them with the brush.

The caterpillars may be destroyed by spraying with four pounds of arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water just as the foliage comes out, before the trees blossom. The arsenate of lead may be added to lime-sulphur or Bordeaux mixture. If there are only a few nests
the caterpillars may be destroyed by
spraying the nest on a cool cloudy day,
or early or late in the day with pure kerosene. An extension rod and a fine nozzle will aid in getting this spray on the nest without spraying the surrounding foliage. The caterpillars also may be destroyed by burning the nest
or tent with a torch.

The work can be done more effectively and more easily as soon as the tents begin to appear.

Amatite ROOFING

Plain every day reasoning will prove the economy of covering your roofs with Amatite—the mineral surfaced roofing that requires no painting.

When you lay Amatite, your time
is not spent keeping your roof
water-tight or patching leaks just when there is important work to be done about the farm.

Amatite costs no more than the smooth surfaced roofings that require painting. Sold everywhere.

Memorial Day was observed here by William Payson Post as its annual custom to pay a yearly tribute to the dead. Saturday comrades of the Post were detailed to decorate the graves of their deceased members in the outlying sections. Sunday evening the Memorial service was delivered by Rev. D. T. Burgh in the Baptist church to William Payson Post and its allied organizations. It was an able sermon and was well received by the good sized audience present. Monday morning services were held at 9 o'clock at the monument, by the Post who marched from G. A. R. hall, led by a local band, organized for the occasion. The service was held at the monument in line, where the usual services were held as follows: Prayer by Chaplain of Post, G. K. Kallio; reading of roll of honor, W. F. Cunningham; Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg, P. E. Richmond; benediction by Rev. J. E. Everingham.

Frederick Libby of Lawrence, Mass., was a week-end guest of relatives here, returning home on Monday.

Mrs. A. K. McKelvey and her family were in town on Sunday last, G. W. Walker went to Boston Wednesday on a business trip.

Invitations are out for a reception to be given to the seniors of the high school.

Mrs. Sumner Leach of Oakland was a guest at B. F. Walters last Saturday. Joseph Newbert went to Boston Wednesday morning, where he will visit his daughters and other relatives.

Dr. J. P. Starnett and family were guests over Memorial Day of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Starnett, returning to Bangor Monday.

Mrs. John Dunbar and granddaughter, Helen Carter, of Wallham, Mass., are guests at H. W. Pendleton's. George Brigham, who passed Memorial Day in town has returned to Stratford, Conn., while Mrs. Brigham will remain for a longer visit with her daughter, Mrs. B. E. Kallio.

K. F. Wright of Union and daughter Martha were in town Monday.

Another social dance will be given in Glover hall Saturday evening this week with music by Tommy's orchestra.

Rev. Robert and Mrs. Carey of Ilesboro are in town visiting friends. They were agreeably surprised Wednesday evening by a number of their friends calling on them and giving them a glad reception at the home of Edgar Montgomerie, Thomaston street.

Mrs. Olive Pope is visiting relatives in Rockland this week.

The graduating exercises of the high school will be held Friday evening, June 11.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class, will be given next Sunday evening at the Baptist church by Rev. D. T. Burgh.

Miss Mildred Watts who was a week-end guest at J. S. McDonald's returned to Bangor on Monday.

Master Leland Peabody is enjoying rides with his new goat team.

Appleton Lodge of Appleton and Knox Lodge of Rockland will visit the Vindicator Lodge Friday evening and work the third degree on several candidates.

Spencer M. Kallio, who died at his home in Providence, R. I., May 31, aged nearly 88, was a native of Warren, Mass., and was a member of the local lodge of the Order of the Eastern Star.

He had spent the past two summers at the home of his brother, George W. Kallio, who was a member of the local lodge of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Deceased is survived by two sons, Dr. L. H. Kallio of Providence and George S. Kallio of New Hampshire; two sisters, Mrs. Julia Hosmer of Warren and Mrs. Emily Dunbar of Turin; and two brothers, Geo. W. Kallio of Warren and Harvey G. Kallio of Weymouth, N. H. The remains were taken to Ossipee, N. H., and placed in the family lot.

Weed-Ripley

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Jones, Linnebrook street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Tuesday evening, June 1, when their daughter, Mrs. Minnie Ripley, was united in marriage to Sherman Weed in the presence of only the immediate family. The double ring ceremony was impressively performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. S. E. Frohock, pastor of the Baptist church, Camden. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall E. Reed and son John F. of Roxbury, Me. The bride was charmingly gowned in blue messaline with chiffon trimmings, and the groom wore the conventional black. The matron of honor was attired in a very pretty gown of white lace trimmed with satin. The decorations were of potted plants and cut flowers and were simple but attractive. After the ceremony a chicken supper was served. Both bride and groom are residents of this town where they are well and favorably known. For thirteen years Mr. Weed has been employed as caretaker of the Gilbert cottage which position he has credibly filled. They were the recipients of many valuable gifts. They went immediately to their home on Linnebrook street which was in readiness for them and where they will be at home to their many friends who extend congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

Camden

Charbino and De Castolo, direct from Tremont Theatre, are the vaudeville attraction at the Comique theatre for Friday and Saturday. They are novel and varied, showing special apparatus, performing clever feats of equilibrium. A special program of pictures is also to be found at this theatre.

In Social Circles

An automobile party left yesterday for Boston in Mr. Perry's car, to attend the Siegfried performance in Harvard Stadium Friday night. The party consisted of J. L. Perry, Nelson B. Cobb, W. S. Bishop, W. O. Fuller, John J. Perry and Standish Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Marston of Portland were recent guests of Rockland relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Storer of Union were in the city Monday.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, who has been the guest of her father, Joseph York, returned to Boston Monday.

Misses Mae and Neva Chase gave a linen shower Monday evening at their home on Fulton street to their brother Harry and his bride to be, Miss Theresa Manning. The first part of the evening was enjoyed in social chat and music, followed by refreshments. The table was prettily decorated with a large bouquet of apple blossoms in the center.

From which pink ribbons were extended to the several plates. The 15 guests just before being served that a "photo" of the couple was attached to the ends of the ribbons hidden among the flowers. Immediately after the lunch a shower of towels descended upon Miss Manning's head and she showed her pleasure and surprise in manner, as well as in the speech which she made, thanking each one for her many pretty gifts. The evening passed away all too quickly and it was with regret that the party, upon learning the lateness of the hour, was obliged to say good night.

Elizabeth Curtis Holman of Waterville has just been awarded first prize in the poet's competition of the Boston Authors Club for the best love poem suitable for a musical setting. The prize was given by Harriet Prescott Spofford—an autographed edition of Mrs. Spofford's writings. The musical setting of Mrs. Holman's verses will be by Mabel W. Daniels, who has done much that is noteworthy along that line.

Mrs. W. L. Benner has returned from a visit of several weeks in Boston and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Robinson returned Monday night from Skowhegan, where they visited their son, George K. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dornier and Mr. and Mrs. Harris P. Smith spent the week-end at their farm in Washington, making the trip in the Dornier car.

Mrs. Cyrus W. Hills is at Madrid on a fortnight's fishing trip with Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond of Lewiston and others.

John E. Brown, formerly manager of the Woolworth store in this city, now similarly employed in Nashua, N. H., was in town the first of the week. He came here with a motor party.

Mrs. Bonnie C. Merriek of Greenville, S. C., and Mrs. Alice E. Dickey are guests of Mrs. Mary Perry, South Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Cobb went to Boston Wednesday.

Percy Howard, formerly manager of the Dinsmore shoe store in this city, was home from Portland over Memorial Day.

Miss Kate T. Wendell of New York has arrived at her Crescent Beach cottage for the season. Though one of the first to come and last to go, Miss Wendell finds the season at that point just about all too brief.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keyes of Portland visited relatives in this city and Thomaston the first of the week.

Miss Elizabeth Otis of Hallowell is at Hiram Small's, Crescent Beach for a few weeks. Her father, Mayor Otis, was there the first of the week.

Mrs. C. F. Wyman of Geneva, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Steer, North Main street.

Mrs. C. F. Wyman returned from a visit in Amherst, Mass.

Mrs. Francena Sleeper arrived at her home in this city Tuesday, from Somerville, Mass., where she will remain during the summer.

Mrs. Fannie Thomas left for Augusta Monday with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Leadbetter who were in this city Memorial Day. She will make an extended visit with her daughters, Mrs. Leadbetter and Mrs. Lolla Hutcheson.

Miss Flora Wise is the guest of Mrs. F. W. Darling in Hyde Park, Mass.

Mrs. Hattie A. Higgins was in this city on business last Tuesday and returned to South Harbor Wednesday, where she is employed.

Fred Carini returned Tuesday night from Dover, N. H., where he was the guest of F. M. Simmons. He attended the horse races on Memorial Day at the Granite State Park, and there saw some of the best horses in the country. He also had the pleasure of driving the fast trotter Alvin W., owned by George Bachelder of this city, around the mile track, which was quite a feat for him.

Mrs. Harris Woodman and son, Winthrop, have been guests the past week at Mrs. Woodman's former home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon White are making an extended visit in Boston.

Walter Cummings, who resided on Limerock street 20 years ago, was in the city yesterday, and also visited his father in Appleton. He is now manager of the New Weymouth House in Nantasket, Mass.

The Good Cheer Sewing Circle meets with Mrs. Herbert Hall, Summer street, next Tuesday.

Greenleaf Somers, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Piper of Somerville, Mass., are at their cottage for the season. Proprietor Smith of the Crescent Beach House is visiting relatives in Waterville. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ives and son, of New York are guests at the Crescent Beach House. The hotel orchestra will report for duty about the middle of June. This year it will be a male orchestra, composed of Archie Jones, leader; Charles White and Frank Scott. Mr. Jones studied with George E. M. Dickinson.

MUSIC AND DRAMATICS

High School Students Acquired Themselves With Much Credit in Wednesday Night's Recital.

The annual musical recital of Rockland high school, postponed from last term, was held in the Assembly room Thursday night, and the various features were keenly relished by a large audience. Words of welcome were extended by Albert H. Perry, whose claim that advancement had been made along music and dramatic lines was amply justified.

The entertainment opened with a section by the school orchestra—Miss Liberty, march, and two-step, by Joseph M. Daly. Other orchestral numbers on the program were an overture, "The Golden Seppire" by R. Schlegel, and one of R. B. Hall's stirring marches, "The Sentinel." For many years Rockland High has had one of the best school orchestras in the State, and the three numbers rendered Wednesday night prove that the 1915 organization is no exception.

Lloyd B. Ham of the school faculty has proven himself a very capable director. The high school chorus handled the cantata "Ruth" (by Gail) in a manner which makes it easier to understand the week-end in Washington.

After year takes such a high rank in the Maine Festival. Here is its training school. The Naomi solos were sung by Evelyn Davis, Esther Perry and Lolla Lakeman, the three soloists by Lillian Gay and Idamee Wotton, and the Boaz solos by Avarid Nathan and Standish Perry. The trio number (Naomi, Orpah and Ruth) was rendered by Joyce Littlehale, Esther Perry and Hazel Hardy, and the duet (Naomi and Ruth) by Freda Morris and Lovina Aylward. There was no mistaking the quality of the applause which followed each number.

The Girls' glee club proved extremely pleasing in its rendition of two numbers, "Esmeralda," by Levey, and "A Cake Shop Romance," by Osbourne. The vocal portion of the program was again a tribute to Miss Margaret G. Buglies, whose work as director of music in our public schools cannot be too highly commended. She was presented with a handsome bouquet of roses, and the pupils also remembered the accompanist, Miss Grace Follett, with a bouquet.

Proficiency in dramatics was shown by the students in their interpretation of W. D. Howells' clever farce "The Mousetrap." The members of the cast were Avarid Nathan, Joyce Littlehale, Mary Coughlin, Charlotte Cross, Mildred Tuttle, Clara Tuttle and Hazel Hardy. The simulation of fear at the supposed presence of a mouse was very real. The cast was well coached by Miss Gwendolyn G. Perry of the school faculty.

Miss Coughlin, principal of the school, expressed thanks for the public's patronage.

Proposals for Building the Odd Fellows Buildings.

Sealed bids will be received until 4 p. m. Saturday, June 12, 1915, when they will be opened by the Building Committee.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from John A. Karl of Rockland and W. E. Schwartz, architect, of Camden.

We reserve right to reject any or all bids.

Signed by Building Committee, JOHN A. KARL, Chairman.

Rockland, June 3, 1915.

THE QUAIN, ADORABLE ENGLISH SMOCK

A young-old fashion for the young. It makes you think of rose-gardens hedged with box and whitethorn, of punting on the Thames and house-boating at Henley. You'll want it for tennis and golf, the garden, the studio and the class-room. Picturesque in green, lovely to look at in blue, irresistible in rose color. You can make it in linen or linen-finished cotton materials.

GETTING THE MOVIE REELS

Not Always Easy for the Theatre Managers—How Rockland Saw Tiller's Punctured Romance.

The theatre-going public has no realization of the difficulties that occasionally arise in overcoming mistakes of the film exchange bookers and express people.

Rockland Theatre had a most peculiar experience in getting the big feature, "Tiller's Punctured Romance," into Rockland in time for the matinee.

The film was shipped to the Empire Theatre, Portland, by mistake, and although their manager telephoned Rockland and took the film personally in his car to the Union station, it was too late to even get it on the train leaving Bath at 10 o'clock.

The next train out of Portland for Rockland was the 4:05 that arrives here at 5:35. By a good deal of telephoning, arrangements were made with the express people to send the film as far as Lewiston on the St. John express which arrives in Lewiston at 4:12, and the film was rushed by automobile to Gardiner, a distance of 35 miles, arriving at Gardiner three minutes after the automobile which Mr. Black sent from Rockland to Gardiner to meet it.

The film reached Rockland Theatre at 5:20, the patrons little realizing that additional reels were being shown to take up the time until its appearance upon the screen. It made a late matinee but the theatre people often go to a lot of additional expense to overcome mistakes so as not to disappoint their patrons.

We'll See Good Baseball

Rockland Locals Have Arranged Series With Thomaston And Belfast—Memorial Day Game Was a Hummer—Other Sports.

Although there is no immediate prospect of a baseball league, the Knox county fans are assured of some good sport on the Broadway ground during the summer months. Belfast is to have a strong semi-professional team, and will have a representative here tonight to arrange a schedule of games through June and July.

A five-game series has been arranged with Thomaston, the winner to take possession of a purse of $100. The dates for this series are June 11, 19, 26, and July 5 and 10. Such is the spirit of rivalry between Rockland and Thomaston that many persons prefer to see them play than other teams. But it must not be inferred that our only opponents this season are to be Belfast and Thomaston. On the contrary Manager Lamb intends to sand-bag in games with other strong teams throughout the State, and is ready to hear from any other ambitious manager who is ready to talk business.

An unusual feature in connection with the Rockland team this season is the fact that it has elected a captain who is not one of the players. This distinction has been conferred upon Albert C. McLoon, who in his day was considered one of Rockland's best amateur players, and who is still capable of doing a good stunt at bat or arfield. He will direct the team from the bench, and give to it the benefit of his long experience and dispassionate judgment. The members of the team are to receive a modest salary, and in return are to devote regular hours to practice.

There is a strong prospect that Clyde Pounds will again be seen in a Rockland uniform this season. He writes from his home in Ocoee, Fla., that he will come North this summer if there is anything doing in the baseball line. Manager Lamb's prompt reply ought to convince him that there is something doing. Pounds played short and second two years ago, and was popular with the crowd.

Camden High defeated Belfast High 12 to 4 on the Camden grounds Wednesday afternoon and passed into second place. The present standing is:

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Thomaston	5	4	.563
Camden	3	2	.600
Rockland	3	3	.500
Belfast	1	3	.250
Norwalk	0	3	.000

If the baseball fans can be assured of as good sport this summer as that which they saw on the Broadway ground Memorial Day there will be no kick coming from anybody. It was, of course, no small satisfaction to win from Thomaston, the best team set the same old scores, but over and above that was the fact that two well-matched teams were playing fast ball and in deadly earnest. Neither team would need much strengthening to meet all-comers in the amateur line. Monday's errors were glaring ones; that much must be admitted. But they were offset by some batting and fielding that saved of "big league stuff."

Although the game has passed into history, and Memorial Day is hardly more than a "memory," the salient points of the contest will doubtless interest those who were unable to be present.

The first inning saw three Thomaston batsmen disposed of in quick order. Healey, first man up for the home team, found that Pitcher Frisbie's cunning had not vanished, and he went back to the bench, after three ineffectual attempts to connect. Henry Alperin hit a sharp one to Robinson, who made a wild heave to the initial corner. Alperin stole second, and Gay was passed. Lorraine hit to a far corner of the field scoring Alperin. Gay, a victim of ill-advised coaching, was easily thrown out at the plate. Bartlett led off for the visitors, but was checked out.

In the second inning Thomaston was again in order. Rockland was in a fair way to follow suit, and with two down Cogan drove the ball over the right field fence for a double. Hyman Alperin's single scored him, but Frisbie again had Healey's number, and the fun stopped.

The third inning was vastly more amusing for Manager Pearson's men. With two down Cogan singled, Gay, who had been taking everything in sight, slipped up on Feyer's grounder. Two more infield errors allowed both Cogan and Feyer to score. Gay had found himself by this time, and accepted H. McDonald's fly, for the third out.

Thomaston had a similarly bad inning in the last half of the third, but Rockland realized but one run on it as the result of more base-running which was not up to snuff. A peculiar decision was given in this inning. With Bartlett on third Flint hit to Robinson, who threw to Feyer. Bartlett scored, but to everybody's surprise, Flint was called out for not having touched first base. Coincided with this decision Empire Sherman declared that Bartlett's run counted. Rockland was glad to have the score, but it puzzled many of the fans to know the process of reasoning by which it was allowed.

Nothing more doing until the sixth, when to the great joy of Thomaston's supporters Robinson and H. McDonald knocked two home runs in succession. Robinson's four-bagger was an exceptionally long hit, the ball landing in Howard Wiltz's yard. Rockland's half of the sixth was discounted by a fast double play.

Cottrell lightened after those two home runs had been made off him, and retired three men in quick succession. Singles by Henry Alperin and Gay, coupled with their two stolen bases, tied the score in the last half of the seventh.

Each team got a man to second base in the eighth inning, but the coveted hit was not forthcoming.

The situation looked pretty ticklish for Rockland in the first half of the ninth. The first man up was Frisbie, who reared first on Gay's error. Pease's single advanced him to third. Newhall hit to Healey, who made a pretty throw to the plate shutting off a run. Cogan's single drove in Pease and left two on bases, with but one man out. Feyer struck out, making two. The man who stepped to the plate in this crisis was "Pete" Robinson, whose home run has already been mentioned, and who had hit the ball hard in every time at bat. Crick went his bat, and away flew the ball to centerfield fence, where Lamb caught it as prettily as one would care to see. Had he muffed or misjudged it an overwhelming lead for Thomaston would have resulted.

Thus it happened that Rockland was one score in arrears when she came to bat in the last half of the ninth.

Hyman Alperin had the good fortune to draw a walking ticket, but was an easy out in attempting to steal second. This misfortune was emphasized by Healey's double, which would have sent him home. Henry Alperin reached first on player's choice. Robinson's wild throw allowed Healey to score, but Henry Alperin who attempted to score on the same play was thrown out at the plate. By the application of the usual ground rules it would seem that Alperin should have been sent back to third base, but he was declared out.

Thomaston's double sent Gay to third base. With the score tie, and two out, Frisbie gave Bartlett a base on balls, and in a further burst of generosity made the fourth ball a wild pitch, on which Gay scored the winning run. It was a hard loss for Thomaston, but with more careful base-running on Rockland's part the contest would not have been even close.

The crowd—and it was a big crowd—watched Cottrell's work with interest. The former Rockland boy had more speed than has been seen on the Broadway ground for many a day. Except for the two home runs of that sixth inning there was never a line when Thomaston could have scored, but for the aid of errors which would not ordinarily have been made. Cottrell's batting was likewise a reminder of his high school days, when long drives were rather a specialty with him. Lamb's fielding was a feature and he showed much speed in beating out two scratch hits.

Frisbie had a good deal on the ball, as usual, and also suffered from a wobbly support. Pease's backstop, is a young attorney who has lately located in Thomaston, and he hasn't forgotten what he learned about baseball on the Maine Law School team.

Colby defeated Bowdoin 7 to 4 in the Maine college series Tuesday.

The Lewiston Journal's account of the game includes this reference to a Knox county boy who has been doing valorous service on the Waterville team: "Home Run" Allen did not get a square rap at the horseshoe, his slams resulting in a fly to right field, another to shortstop, and a grounder to the middle of the diamond. The Bowdoin pitcher evidently recalled Allen's "rallying-seventh" tendencies, for he broke his record of the day by passing the Camden boy."

In sliding for first base Memorial Day Lamb had the misfortune to break two small bones in one of his wrists. This will keep him out of the game for some time to come and his place in center field will not be easy to fill.

The games in the Knox-Waldo League Saturday afternoon will be staged on Rockland and Belfast grounds. Rockland's opponent will be Vinahaven, and it will be our last home game in this League.

Must defend itself against the onslaughts of the Camden batsmen, who, after losing two straight games, suddenly began to show championship class. Should Thomaston lose one of its remaining games, Camden High would have a very fair chance of tying that team for first honors.

At the Belfast bowling academy Tuesday night a team captained by Irvin Cross defeated the Camden team by 78 pins. The tally: Belfast—Cross 465, Brown 451, Chapman 465, Walton 417, Rogers 416, total 2214; Camden—Fitzgerald 407, Barker 451, Hopkins 456, Arico 422, Ray 430; total 2165.

The Thomaston Locals will not have the services of Arthur McDonald this season, as he will be engaged in a highway survey work that takes him away from home. This is too bad for any moment to break up the game with one of his long waits.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Friday and Saturday the management is offering another of its famous picture programs, headed by the 6th instalment of the Kalem Girl Detective series, entitled "The Trap Door." Cast into a cell by a clever crook, a detective is horrified to discover that the place is being flooded. As if this prospect is not sufficiently terrifying, the unfortunate man finds himself beset by a horde of rats, which swarm out of their holes as the water rises. This situation, worthy of a Poe, occurs in "The Trap Door," the latest two-act episode of Kalem's remarkable Girl Detective Series. That this man does not meet the horrible fate planned for him, is due to the courage and ingenuity of the girl detective, who rescues him in the nick of time.

This picture will be followed by the 20th instalment of "The Twenty Million Dollar Mystery," the 23rd instalment of "The Hazards of Helen," and the Broadway star feature, "The Return of Maurice Donnelly," another big Vitagraph success in three reels—adv.

EVERYBODY KNOWS HIM

Conductor Silas Anderson, of Course—
Read What Sam Conner Says.

"Why! I know him; everybody knows him; you oughtn't to use a story about him in this department!"
So exclaimeth the magazine editor, when the above paragraph was handed in. In this instance, for once, an editor was right; nearly everybody who travels in Maine knows Silas H. Anderson, the most of them summarize that handle into the shorter and more affectionate "Si." It is probably true that some kids on the road don't know Si. Anderson, but the old-timers can't help it, for the gentleman under discussion has run on all parts of the Maine Central railroad system since 1876 and in that time has been making friends—the sort that stick by you when there's need of a friend.

It isn't worth while to ask one of the old-timers why conductor Anderson became a railroad man if you expect a long dissertation on the subject. They would answer, instantly, "He's Joe Anderson's boy."

Now that may not mean a lot to some of you folks who read these words. Joseph E. Anderson worked for the Maine Central years and years and didn't quit until he was 65 years old. He got out then only because it seemed to him that it was fair to take the remaining years of life easy. At the time of his retirement and for a long time previous Joseph E. Anderson was station agent at Bath. Silas Anderson just naturally drifted into the railroad business though it is scarcely fair to call it drifting. He got a job on the road with the full consent of his father and because, as a young man, he thought it offered a good opportunity for advancement.

His first job was as a brakeman. Oddly enough this was on the same train of which, today, he is the conductor. This train leaves Lewiston at 7 a. m. going to Bath and Rockland, returning to Lewiston in the afternoon. He was on that run for a number of years and in 1882, after the Maine Central took over the old European & ran between Bangor and Vanceboro during that year and 1883. In 1880 he was on the Lewiston and Farmington run, he handled trains between Bangor and Portland. He took his present run six years ago and all the boys who travel that way welcomed him royally. He was made a conductor on June 10, 1890.

Si. Anderson has one great, big reason for being popular with those who travel much on his train. He's good-natured, polite and never presuming. He's conductor of the train and respects the rights of every passenger to ask information. He answers, even though the knowledge sought is so common that a babe should know it. He will stand and repeat this until the person understands. With old people he is all consideration and sees to it that they are not carried by their station and that they are properly assisted on and off the train. When children travel they have a protector in Si. as all who ride much with him know.

Always he has a cheery good morning and his manner of asking for tickets is never brusque. If a chap is sleeping when the ticket-taking time arrives Si. will awaken him in such a gentle way that there can be no complaint.

"Yours is the next station, lady." How many times have those who ride on his train heard him say that to some woman who has been fussed for fear she will miss her destination. There are some conductors who seem to feel they are being imposed upon if asked concerning a train connection on some division other than that upon which they run. Not so with Si. He can usually answer right off the bat, but if he can't he digs out the official time-table and looks up the information with an air which implies that he's mighty grateful to the inquirer for calling his attention to something he ought to have known, but didn't. This makes the person who wants to know feel a lot better than the gruff stuff which is sometimes handed out.

It is rather interesting to note that when Joseph E. Anderson retired two years ago from the service, the total number of years which he and his son, Silas, had worked for the Maine Central was 91, which is some record.

A lot more good things could be written of Si. Anderson, because he's big, good-natured, kind-hearted and deserving of compliments as the traveling public and the train men under him will all attest.—Sam E. Conner in the Lewiston Saturday Journal.
